HEYN TO ERECT HANDSOME HOTEL

Tyrolean Architecture to be Followed at Tuscarora Inn. Plans here.

WILL RISE MANY STORIES

One of Chain to be Built this Summer. Gettysburg not Likely before Autumn or Next Year.

The Times publishes to-day the plan for the new hotel which is to be erected this summer on Mt. Tuscarora by Roman H. Heyn, who recently purchased the property at the corner of North Washington and Chambersburg streets for the erection of a modern hostelry here.

If the plans for the Tuscarora Hotel on the top of the Alleghenies is any indication of the scale on which he intends to build at Gettysburg the town may be assured of a thoroughly modern building. The fact that Mr. Heyn and those associated with him have been concerned for some years in the management of the Schenley Hotel at Pittsburgh would indicate their ability to conduct properly any proposition of the sort they may be planning to undertake.

The new hotel will be located about 130 miles east of Pittsburgh at one of the most beautiful rural spots to be found along the entire Lincoln Highway. In architecture it will follow the Austrian Tyrol style and will offer complete garage accommodations and open-air camping sites in addition to the very best of metropolitan hotel service.

Persons who have seen the plans for the Gettysburg hotel state that it is to run up several stories higher than the largest building now in the town. This is made necessary by reason of the comparatively small amount of ground Mr. Heyn was able to purchase here. He wished to get several other properties adjoining the ones he did buy but they were not for sale.

As yet the plans for the hotel here have not been made public but personal friends of Mr. Heyn have been shown them and say that it is to be built on a most pretentious scale. It is also stated that while it is the plan to build the Tuscarora Mountain hotel this summer, it is not likely that operations in Gettysburg will be started before the fall or possibly not before next spring.

COMPARES CHIEF TO FIERCE DOG

Stood between Teachers and School Board. Chambersburg Row Continues.

The second session, of the hearing of A. B. Hess, superintendent of Chambersburg's public schools, on charges preferred by thirty-two teachers, attracted a large crowd of patrons of the schools in Chambersburg Tuesday night. A half dozen new witnesses were heard. At this rate of speed the trial may continue several weeks.

Alvin Kuhn, a high school teacher, testified that he prepared the charges against Hess. Counsel for Hess brought out that Kuhn had held the confidence of Hess until almost the time the charges were made public.

Kuhn, when asked to explain why he had not gone to the school board with complaints against the superintendent, said he could best explain by a figure of speech.

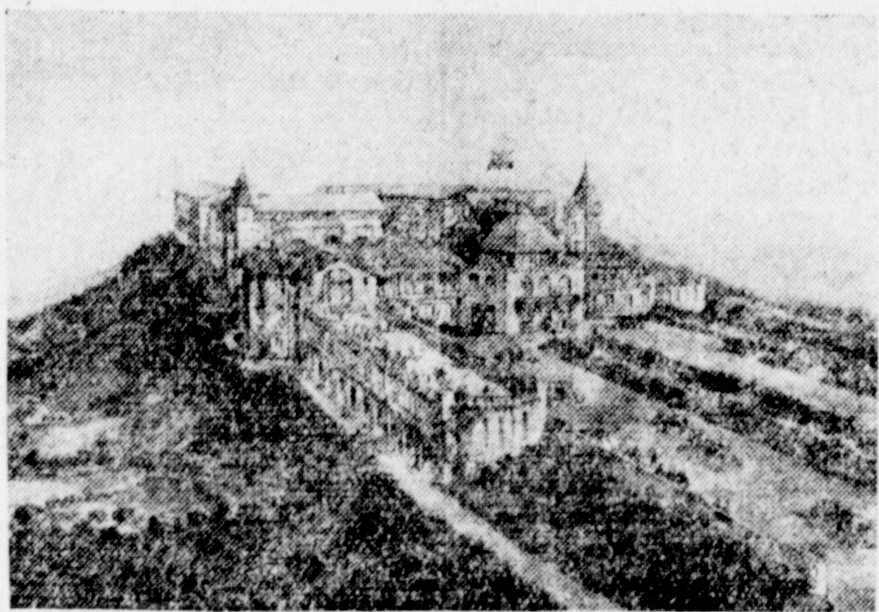

"It is like the fear one has of opening the front gate of a farmhouse when one knows that a fierce bulldog lies in wait. Hess is the bulldog between the teachers and the school board," he explained.

Counsel for Hess attacked Kuhn's credibility and had a number of tilts with other counsel upon testimony requested from Kuhn. Kuhn frequently appealing to his lawyer before answering. Kuhn is the high school teacher who was discharged by a former board and re-employed by the present board after Hess became superintendent.

CONGRESS CALLED FOR APRIL SECOND

War Seems Near at Hand through Action of President Wilson.

(By Telegraph)
Washington, Mar. 21—President Wilson to-day announced an extra session of Congress called for Monday April 2nd.

The President has decided to meet the German high sea affronts with sweeping action, it is conceded. Mr. Wilson publicly declared that the earlier call was due to the fact that "grave matters of grave policy" were to be taken under consideration. War to-day seems just ahead.

A state of war is conceded now to be existing between the United States and Germany and a declaration of war may be the first thing the President will ask of Congress. If the President does not ask this declaration Congress may demand it. The general belief, however, is that Congress will simply take formal action to recognize the actual state of war as existing and that they will empower the President to take such action as he regards necessary to uphold American rights.

This was the attitude of the Congress immediately before the outbreak of the Spanish American war.

COMBINE WARDEN FORCES

Some Measures which will hardly Go very far this Year.

Bills which would consolidate the State game and fish warden forces have been introduced by Mr. Phillips, Clearfield. One bill abolishes the game protectors and establishes the office of chief game protector, who shall be secretary of the game commission and direct the new force.

The companion bill provides for the Game Commission to name fifty game and fish wardens and the Fisheries Commission ten. One of the latter is to be chief fish warden. The men are to be under joint control and are to be paid $100 per month. An appropriation of $175,000 is made from hunters' license revenue. The act states that special wardens and deputy protectors are not to be affected. The acts are likely to be hard fought as the Commissioner does not favor the plan.

FOR PHYSICAL TRAINING

All Except Rural Schools would Get Period a Day.

(By Telegraph)

Harrisburg, Mar. 21—Physical training in all except the rural public schools is provided in a bill introduced in the House to-day by Representative Horne, of Cambria. The bill provides one period a day in all except fourth class schools, and also includes the normal schools. The bill specifies that this is not to be understood as meaning military training.

Senator Stewart introduced a bill declaring quail a song bird and protecting it absolutely.

LEAGUE SECURES MUSICAL TREAT

Noted Young Violinist will again Appear before Gettysburg Audience.

The Woman's League of the college has secured Ralph P. Lewars and Domenico Bove for a recital on April 26th in Brua Chapel.

Mr. Lewars' ability as a pianist has long been recognized here. He is now director of the Philadelphia School of Musical Art, organist of the First Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, and choir master of the Luther Memorial church, West Philadelphia.

Domenico Bove as a mere youth appeared in Gettysburg a number of years ago. He then gave unusual promise as a violinist and years of study since have wrought a refined finished artist out of gifted and precocious youth. He won his spurs as a virtuoso immediately after his student days, appearing in his own recitals and as soloist with some of the leading orchestras of Europe. The advent of the war interrupted this tour and forced him to come to America.

The Woman's League is most fortunate to have secured a date with these two musicians.

TO FILL VACANCY

Fourth Class Postmaster Examination for Aspers Office.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Gettysburg, on April 28, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Aspers, Pennsylvania, and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement.

The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $625 for the last fiscal year.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first birthday on the date of examination. They must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced.

Application blanks, Form 1753, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C., at the earliest practicable date.

The trouble came when two H. U. I. lads—helpers under instruction—were promoted to the status of machinists and put on machines with regular machinist pay. According to the agreement no one but apprentices, who start at lower salary, are eligible for elevation to machinists' jobs. This is the cause of dissension. There is no wage dispute.

RECEIVER FOR A KHARAS CONCERN

Harrisburg Man President of Mont Alto Company. Factory is Busy.

D. EDW. LONG APPOINTED

Thought Troubles were at an End when Payment was Provided for Checks.

A receiver has been appointed for the Mont Alto Manufacturing Company by Judge W. Rush Gillan, of Franklin County, upon petition of a number of the stockholders and creditors. D. Edward Long, Esq., Chambersburg, has been made the receiver temporarily.

A hearing will be had Tuesday, March 27, at which time a permanent receiver will be named. No schedule of the financial condition of the manufacturing company has been filed.

The company has been busy in the manufacture of men's shirts and just the other day additional women were employed in order to get out the orders promptly.

Some time ago a quarterly dividend of two per cent was declared. Payment of the checks for this dividend and, also, some for wages due was refused by the banking institution in Harrisburg on which they were drawn.

After several weeks provisions were made for the payment of the checks and it was believed then that the troubles of the company were over.

Dr. Theodore Kharas, Harrisburg, is president of the Mont Alto Manufacturing Company and M. D. Jacobs, Mont Alto, is treasurer. The directors of the company are principally Mont Alto men.

The capital stock of the company is $7000 of preferred and $7000 of common stock.

NEIGHBORS ARE FIRST

Hanover Launches Garden Movement and All are Co-Operating.

In line with the general movement to reduce the cost of living "Home and School Garden associations" are to be formed all over the country. Hanover is the first in this section to launch such a project. Former Congressman Lafean has sent the Hanover association 1,000 packs of seeds for the work. Superintendent Oden C. Gortner and the teachers of the public schools of Hanover are busily engaged in promoting the "Home and School Garden association" and they are asking the support and co-operation of every parent, citizen, business and professional man of the town.

The general aim is to plant a garden on every back lot and on every vacant lot in the town. But other special aims are to lower the high cost of living; to provide fresh vegetables for the home; to teach children how to work and to love work; to train boys and girls to earn their own spending money; to furnish children profitable employment during vacation; to encourage boys and girls in matters of industry and thrift; to correlate better the work of the school and the home; to win prizes offered for the best and most vegetables grown; to urge children to save by starting a bank account of their own; to develop in boys the best manhood and in girls the finest womanhood.

300 MEN ON STRIKE

Because Two Boys were Given Promotion. Western Maryland Trouble.

Over three hundred machinists, machinist helpers and apprentices walked out at the Western Maryland shops and round house in Hagerstown Tuesday because they claimed the agreement regulating promotions was broken by officials. The men declare they will not go back until the point is settled and definite assurance given that no attempt will again be made to overstep the contract.

General Manager Ennes went to the scene on Tuesday immediately after hearing of the men's action and is endeavoring to straighten out the tangle.

The trouble came when two H. U. I. lads—helpers under instruction—were promoted to the status of machinists and put on machines with regular machinist pay. 50,000 FIRE

Hagerstown Has Costly Blaze which Destroys Cars.

Fire destroyed the frame car barn and contents owned by the Hagerstown and Frederick trolley company in Hagerstown on Tuesday, entailing a loss of about $50,000. The fire burned three passenger cars, for interurban travel, $6000 each; three pay-as-you-enter cars valued at $4,000 each; one freight motor, valued at $4000 and building $10,000; store room and contents about $10,000. The fire apparently started on the outside of and near the front of the building and from the location and circumstances it appears to have been of incendiary origin. When the men at the barn discovered the fire it had eaten through the side of the frame structure and the flames were leaping as high as the roof.

Every County in State to Have Committee which will Attend to Work.

Adams County is included in the local option organization planned by the state committee in Harrisburg Tuesday night and which is destined to work along practical lines. Dr. W. A. Granville has been named as the local committeeman.

An effort will be made to bring about the election to the next legislature of members who will pledge themselves to vote, not only for county local option, but also for statutory state-wide prohibition. The committee will also endeavor to bring about the nomination and election of members of congress who will vote for a federal prohibition amendment.

It was also decided to call a convention of delegates representing all the anti-liquor organizations of the state with a view to bringing about concentrated action. STATE BOOMS AS A SUGAR GROWER

Maple Trees are being Hunted up by People All over the Mountain Districts.

Pennsylvania which has advanced materially as a producer of foodstuffs in the last few years, as shown by statistics gathered by the bureau of information in the Department of Agriculture, will be one of the big sugar states this year unless all signs fail. The reports coming in tell of a revival of the old-time business of gathering maple sugar and trees in this part of the State are being looked over, too.

For many years Pennsylvania was one of the states noted for maple sugar, but competition with New England and the growth of the national sugar industry caused a decline in price to such a figure that the business became unprofitable and some splendid trees were left untapped.

Word now comes that in Somerset, Blair, Huntingdon and Bedford counties there are extensive sugar operations under way and that in Perry and counties in this region trees are being hunted up and marked. In the northern tier, especially Bradford, Potter and Tioga counties, there are many sugar maples which are now in demand.

TO CONVERT CEMETERY

Would Put Sad Place to More Cheerful Purpose.

The question of having Frederick city purchase the Reformed graveyard and convert it into a public park has been presented to the mayor and alderman of that place.

It is pointed out that while memories almost sacred exist among some of the members of the congregation in reference to the graveyard, it was felt that this might be overcome and a willingness shown to co-operate with the committee in arranging the movement to a successful conclusion.

The main part of the property, it is pointed out, belongs to the Reformed church, and may be disposed of by the consistory, in accordance with plans to be ratified by the congregation. A strip about 45 feet wide and 250 feet long, would probably have to be condemned because it was conveyed to the church by Jacob Bentz as a burial place, with the provision that when it was no longer used for sepulchre purposes it should revert to the Jacob Bentz heirs. A small part of the property in the rear is the property of former Senator Frank C. Norwood.

Rev. Herman C. Fultz, a graduate of Gettysburg Seminary and pastor of First English Lutheran Church, Ellicott City, died Tuesday morning at the Hahnemann Hospital, Baltimore, of typhoid fever. Rev. Mr. Fultz was stricken three weeks ago.

Rev. Mr. Fultz's death makes the second in the 26 cases of typhoid fever in the epidemic which is now prevalent in Ellicott City, caused, as stated by the county and deputy state health officers, by the use of water from the Ellicott City reservoir.

Rev. Mr. Fultz was born in Germany. When two years old he was brought to this country by his parents, both of whom are now dead. His first charge was at St. Mary's English Lutheran Church, Silver Run, Carroll county, where he remained nine years. After leaving there he held charges in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and at St. John's Church, in Washington.

LITTLE LAD HURT

Mark, the 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smith, of Waynesboro, was run down by an automobile, and was seriously injured. That the boy was not killed outright is considered remarkable.

The car was owned and driven by J. W. Ferguson, Smithsburg. Three other men were with him. The Smith boy was playing marbles in the street with his twin brother, Carl, and a little Stewart boy. There is a grade at that point and the boys were engaged in their marble game just beyond the summit. It is thought the driver in ascending the grade did not see the boys in time to stop and avoid striking one of them.

The fender hit the little fellow in the face and knocked him down. Then one of the wheels passed over his right leg between the knee and ankle.

A compound fracture and a very bad one was caused by the weight of the heavy machine. Both bones in the leg were broken entirely off in a diagonal manner. Two deep gashes were inflicted on the right side of the boy's face where the fender struck him. Several stitches were required to close these wounds.

WILL NOT BUILD NEW SCHOOL

The proposed new consolidated school houses in both Washington and Quincy townships have been postponed, at least for a time. The Washington township directors recently determined to consolidate the Plain Hill, Harrison and Union schools on the old Hagerstown road and to erect a new modern building for the pupils of these three schools.

Saturday afternoon about 25 property owners in the three districts appeared before the school board and entered a protest against the proposed new building, on the grounds that it would increase the taxes, that there was not a good road to the proposed site and that the old ungraded schools were good enough. The directors then decided by vote to postpone the erection of the new building.

In Chambersburg Monday morning the suit against Mrs. Cordelia Baer, to compel her to transfer to the Quincy township school board a tract of land to be used for the erection of a consolidated school building, was withdrawn. Mrs. Baer sent to the treasurer of the school board Monday a check for $2500, representing the amount of money she had received as a first payment on the land.

WORKMAN MAY LOSE ARM

W. J. Heller, son of Mrs. Annie Heller, of York, had the muscles and bones of his right arm crushed and broken at the plant of Steacy, Schmidt Manufacturing company about 10 o'clock Monday morning, while operating a milling machine. His sleeve caught and his arm was drawn into the machine. His cries for help brought fellow workmen to his rescue, who released the arm.

TWO FACTORIES BURN

Following an explosion of highly inflammable chemicals used in the manufacture of a furniture polish, fire at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning spread like a flash through the brick building occupied jointly by the World Polish company, the C. F. Motter Automobile company and the York hospital repair shop at York, entailing a loss which is conservatively estimated at $25,000.

The loss includes the stock and equipment of the polish company and five automobiles, several of which were new, which were stored with the Motter Automobile company. All the automobiles and the part owned by the Motters were covered by insurance.

AT SCENE OF PLOT

That they mingled with 40 secret service men while they were on their visit to Washington, Monday, March 5, has just been learned by the members of the Young Men's Democratic society and the Spring Garden band. Just before the parade, the marching delegation of the society and the 70 bandmen from York, were stationed in front of an old building at the intersection of New Jersey avenue and L street. This building formerly was used as an annex to the office of the United States house of representatives, but is at present untenanted. It is said that prior to Inaugural day, the authorities in Washington had learned of a plot to make an attempt upon President Wilson's life and the plotters, as was alleged, were to have occupied the old building, and the attempt upon the president's life was to have been made from there.

To frustrate the plot, 40 secret service men were stationed in the building on the morning of March 5 and they continued on duty there until after the parade had passed.

The Yorkers while they were waiting to take their place in the civic division of the parade formation, took refuge in the old building to escape the cutting March gales. When they entered the building they saw that it was occupied by a large number of men. The Yorkers were not aware that these neatly dressed, quiet demeaned men were members of the secret service, well armed for action and there for the purpose of protecting the president.

URGE NEW PLUMBING LAW

Mayor E. S. Hugentugler, City Solicitor John L. Rouse, Plumbing Inspector G. Harry Baum and a committee of property owners, of York, appeared before the house committee on municipal corporations at Harrisburg Tuesday afternoon in an effort to have Assemblyman Robert S. Spangler's bill repealing the present plumbing laws returned to the house with an affirmative recommendation. Petitions asking Mr. Spangler to bend every effort to have the bill passed by the state legislature were being circulated Monday by George M. Brennenman and several other property owners of York.

The hearing on Mr. Spangler's bill was requested by persons who are inimical to the measure. Mr. Spangler's bill repeals all of the present drastic plumbing laws, with the exception of the provision requiring registration of plumbers, leaving it up to the cities of the third class to formulate regulations adapted to their own peculiar conditions.

CUMBERLAND CO

HAS FRACTURED SKULL

William Walters, Jr., son of William Walters, is in the Carlisle hospital suffering injuries which might have cost him his life. Tuesday morning Walters was trying out a new motor cycle on the Walnut Bottom road and when at or near the home of Jesse Richwine he lost control of the machine and was thrown violently to the ground. Mr. Richwine and others, among them Charles Baker and a party of Shippensburgers, took him to the Carlisle hospital in the Baker automobile. Dr. Allen attended his injuries which consist of a fractured skull and fractured right ankle. The power of the machine not being shut off, it was with difficulty managed by the persons who picked it up. It is said that it was while trying to turn out of the way of a load of corn fodder that Walters lost control, going too far to the side of the road. It was stated at the hospital that he would probably recover.

The motorcycle was found on one side of the road and Walters on the other side. Mr. Baker said that Walters was unable to talk going to Carlisle. He later lapsed into unconsciousness. He says it was a load of hay that was in the road and which caused Walters to turn to the side.

MINISTER DROPS DEAD

He was seen falling from the buggy by a neighbor who immediately went to his rescue, but when lifted up he was found to be dead. His wife died very suddenly about three months ago. Mr. Burkholder was aged 70 years.

San Luis Rey.

San Luis Rey is one of the old ruined missions of southern California—one of the few traces left in the land by that kindly, brave old civilization that flourished there in the days when the middle West was given over to the buffalo and the Indian. The old church still stands, but the placita and the arcades, the attendant village and the tributary fields have vanished with the old life and the old builders before the steady march of the years.

Few Lebanon Cedars.

There are now only about 400 of the cedars of Lebanon left in the grove from which Solomon obtained the wood for the Temple at Jerusalem. The best preserved are about 100 feet high and 47 feet in circumference at the base. They are more than 2,000 years old; in fact, tradition says they never die, having been planted by God on the third day of the creation, and that they will perish only with the end of the world.

DR. DIXON ORDERS NURSE TRAINING

Commissioner of Health Moves for Preparedness in His Department.

As a measure of preparedness in view of the present serious aspect of America's foreign relations, Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Health Commissioner, has begun to make arrangements toward putting his department in shape to aid the state and nation in its own sphere in case a serious situation should arise.

Arrangements are being made for every nurse in the Department to have a course in emergency and first aid work, so that their previous training in this subject will be reviewed and brought strictly up to date. Dr. Dixon emphasizes the fact also that the State Health Department is the largest active medical organization in this State, and probably in any State, and that it would be capable at a moment's notice of taking up work which would be valuable in time of war.

The first aid training of the nurses will be done from six cities which will be centers for their sections. These cities are Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre, Pittsburgh and Oil City.

The training will begin in Harrisburg. It is hoped that arrangements will be completed so that it can begin the end of this week or the beginning of next. The course will take the form of lectures with practical demonstration on all phases of emergency and first aid treatment, with special reference in one of the series to wounds and hemorrhages. They will be given by a physician who has had army training.

Dr. Dixon is a thorough advocate of preparedness, he made it known, and is interested in preparing his Department for any work that might fall to its share in the event of hostilities.

"I believe we should take thought, as a public department," he said "of what we can do for our citizens in case war breaks out. We represent the largest active medical organization in the state, or possibly in any other state, and are capable of providing a valuable service if our country needs us.

"In our dispensaries we have over two hundred practicing physicians and about one hundred and thirty nurses. These dispensaries are in every county and would form each a practical nucleus in case it became necessary to treat large numbers of wounded. Such of them as would require only temporary treatment could be attended to at these dispensaries either visiting them daily or, where that was not possible on account of the condition of the wounds, being visited in their homes.

"From the dispensaries cases that needed more involved treatment could be sent to one of our three sanatoriums, just as we do with our tuberculosis cases. At the sanatoriums there are twenty trained physicians and about a hundred nurses. We have stores of tents and supplies, so that if an emergency arose we could handle large numbers of patients. The remote location of these sanatoriums, and the plentiful supply of pure water and good garbage disposal plants, etc., would be valuable factors in aiding us to carry on this work.

"It is necessary for an active health department to be ready for emergencies at all times. I have only to recall what the department did when the city of Austin was wiped out by a flood several years ago. Within eight hours after the Governor told me to take charge we had car-loads of material under way to feed and house the destitute. We had full control of the city in a military sense and at the end of the fourteenth day we left. The destitute were relieved, danger of disease that followed the flood averted, and everybody that the census showed recovered.

"In the event of a greater emergency which seems perhaps to be near at hand, we hope to prepare so that we can give as good an account of ourselves."

Surely a Thick Fog.

Some ancient mariners were sitting in a seaport tavern relating their experiences of fogs. "Ah!" said one old salt, "I've seen some pretty thick fogs in my time. Why, off the coast of Newfoundland the fog was sometimes so thick that we used to sit on the deck and lean against it! We were sitting one night as usual, with our backs to the fog, when suddenly it lifted, and we all went flop into the sea. A bit thick, wasn't it?"

When Authors Write Best.

The time when an author may do his best work is a much-disputed question and an interesting one. It depends, of course, largely upon the moods and temperament of the individual, but perhaps more largely still upon his habits. The common belief of many authors, however, has been that their best work is done at night.

Author Whose Mishap Gave Idea For a Novel

A year, or so ago William Johnston, a well known editor and writer, had a mishap which made it necessary for him to use crutches for several months. Chafing under the inconvenience, he comforted himself by thinking how much harder lameness must be for an active boy at a period in life when practically all his amusements involve tests of physical endurance. Out of this grew the idea for Mr. Johnston's new novel, "Limpy," recently published. It is the story of a boy who had to wear a brace on one leg. Irvin S. Cobb, after reading it, wrote that "somebody might have written a truer, sweeter, more appealing, more convincing story of a boy than 'Limpy' but nobody ever has."

Care of Young Goslings

There is very little that the owner can do to hurry the hatching of goose eggs, while under the mother, except to see that she is properly supplied with water and food in easily accessible channels, says the American Agriculturist. The period of incubation is from twenty-eight to thirty-three days, but averages thirty days. Do not feed the goslings until two days old, but give them tender, finely cut grass and water. They should not be allowed to swim, however, until they grow older. The first feed may be rolled oats or stale bread slightly moistened with water. Some poultrymen recommend bran, cornbread or chick food. In any event, the feeding should be light and two-thirds or three-quarters should be made up of tender green food. There should be protected houses or coops where the goslings may have adequate shelter from the rain. After a week or ten days they may be safely turned out on good pasture. Fresh drinking water is supplied at all times.

Mother's Doll Story

The Squirrel's House

There was once a nice toy dog of the name of Pip. He lived in a charming little doghouse that stood near the nursery window.

His master was Fred, about six years old. And when spring came Fred lost all interest in toy dogs and wanted a live squirrel.

"Papa, how can I get a pet squirrel?" he was always asking. And, since he lived in a big city, where there were no squirrels except those in the parks, his daddy always said, "I'm sure I don't know, Fred."

But one beautiful sunny day his papa took Fred to the country, and there they found a very kind farmer who caught them a squirrel in a wood.

When Fred got home what do you think he did with his toy dog—his old friend that had been his pet doll since he was a little baby? Why, he just pitched Pip out of the doghouse and put the squirrel in.

But Pip had a lovely disposition, and instead of barking and making a horrid fuss he ran right out in the kitchen for a bone to give the squirrel. But squirrels like nuts best, so Fred sold newspapers till he earned 10 cents to buy nuts for his new pet.

Home Rules For Young.

Be prompt at every meal hour. Shut every door after you and without slamming it.

The Lion's Tongue.

The lion's tongue is so rough that it can be used to rasp the flesh from the bones. The horny, clawlike papillae, or prickles, are nearly a quarter of an inch long. It has been said that the cat uses her prickly tongue in the same way, but she uses it chiefly as a comb.

ALL UNITED TO CLEAN UP TOWN

Campaign at Shippensburg Gets Good Start. Committee Much in Earnest.

A general clean-up of vice in Shippensburg is now under way. The campaign was launched there Sunday as the result of a three-weeks' evangelistic campaign in which Presbyterian, Lutheran and Reformed churches co-operated.

During the campaign urgent entreaties were made for the betterment of morals and strict enforcement of the law. In a strong sermon the Rev. Frank S. Fry, pastor of Grace Reformed Church, made some startling charges. His sermon created a strong sentiment for civic righteousness and resulted in the calling of a special men's meeting and the organization of the Men's Civic League for the purpose of pushing a general clean-up in the town.

The league is pledged to "support the chief Burgess in the enforcement of laws regulating poolrooms and Sunday closing; raise a fund of not less than $500, and any additional amount required, to be used in employing the services of a first-class detective agency to secure evidence that will lead to the prosecution and conviction of violators of the law in Shippensburg; and place in nomination for the coming election a 'citizens' ticket' containing only the names of men who will pledge the faithful discharge of their duties during their term of office."

The illegal selling of liquor and other lawlessness in Shippensburg has made this movement imperative, and an urgent appeal has been made by the league to the municipal authorities and all religious organizations for co-operation in the promotion of civic righteousness.

Shippensburg, under a special act of the legislature of 1873, enjoys the unique distinction of having had no licensed hotels or saloons since 1887. The illegal liquor traffic is said to be conducted by "bootleggers."

The Civic League has elected these officers: president, George W. Himes, president of the People's National Bank; vice president, A. C. Book; secretary, Paul B. Nofstker; treasurer, George H. Stewart, Jr.

As "She Is Spoke" in Canada.

Two French-Canadian citizens were traveling down a river in a houseboat. One of them knew the river and the other did not. They anchored for the night on a bar. Along toward daylight the craft went adrift. Three hours later the motion awoke one of the travelers. He poked his head out of the door. An entirely strange section of scenery was passing. "Baptiste! Baptiste!" he yelled. "Get up! We ain't here!" His comrade roused himself and looked out. "No, by gar!" he said; "we're 12 miles from here."—The Argonaut.

The Word Metis.

The word metis, means mixed. It is from the French metis, a derivative of the Latin miscere, to mix. The term was first used in this country by the early French-speaking population of the northwest to designate persons of mixed white and Indian blood. Among the Spanish-speaking population of the Southwest the word metizo, of the same derivation, is used, but it applies more especially to those of half white and half Indian blood.

Must Co-Operate With Others.

In active life a man works at the side of others. He has to consider them as well as himself. He has to check his impetuosity, curb his imperiousness, listen to objections and suggestions—provided he wishes to round out his career successfully. He must be content to give and take, to be indifferent to cross-currents, to know and feel at all times that however important he may be he is one among others of power, of ability, of humors.—Boersmauer.

Cats Destroy Birds.

Cats occasionally catch a mouse, but not often. They prefer birds. The obnoxious sparrows are too alert for them, and so their accustomed feathered prey is song birds and other species valuable to man because they are insect destroyers. Fledgling young of such birds, in the nest, are destroyed in immense numbers by cats. Pains-taking study of the subject has convinced me that the average cat captures at least 50 birds per annum.—Exchange.

Hanseatic League.

The Hanseatic league is said to have been the first trade union. It was established in the thirteenth century by certain cities of northern Germany for their mutual prosperity and protection. The diet which used to be held every three years, was called the Hansa. This league was virtually broken up in 1630.

Castor Oil on Eyelashes.

Every motor car rider has experienced the discomfort of dust in the eyes, and also from the effects of cold winds. A suggestion has been made that these discomforts may be greatly alleviated by applying castor oil along the eyelashes. This, it is claimed, will catch most of the dust before it can enter the eye, and also it protects the eyes from the chilling effects of the wind.—Scientific American.

To Repair Rubber.

As soon as a rubber article breaks, many people feel that it must be discarded at once. This is not always necessary. Many times a firm patch may be cemented over the break, making the article as good as new. There are those who do this business regularly. Some economists find it expedient to have their rubbers repaired when they first begin to wear, declaring that they can double the length of life of an ordinary pair by such attention.

To Keep Baby Quiet.

To keep an ever-restless youngster quiet and from crawling away all the time, get a large soft, gray blanket and cut gay designs from the nursery books and sew on the blanket, the pictures to be of linen cut from children's linen-books sold in all the shops. The bright pictures attract the child's attention, and he will sit for hours looking and picking at them. A baby fence around it completes the outfit.

Radium Emanations.

The emanations from radium cannot be stopped, but as scarcely any exhaustion of the material is appreciable, despite the fact that a stream of energy is constantly passing off from it, this is of small consequence. If the rays were allowed to escape promiscuously, however, they might do considerable damage; in order to confine them, therefore, a safe has been constructed with a thick lining of lead inside the steel.

Daily Thought.

This seems to me a great truth, in any exile or chaos whatsoever, that sorrow was not given us for sorrow's sake, but always and infallibly as a lesson to us from which we are to learn somewhat; and which, the somewhat once learned, ceases to be sorrow.—Thomas Carlyle.

Important Trifles.

The most trifling actions that affect a man's credit are to be regarded. The sound of your hammer at five in the morning, or nine at night, heard by a creditor, makes him easier six months longer; but if he sees you at a billiard table or hears your voice at a tavern when you should be at work, he sends for his money the next day.—Benjamin Franklin.

Just So It's Beefsteak.

Paul, who lived in the country, where at his house pork is the predominant meat throughout the year, had gone to the city to visit his aunt. Thinking, of course, she must have things he liked best to eat, he asked her what kind of meat she should get for dinner, and Paul's reply was, "I don't care, aunt, whether it is horse or cow, just so it is beefsteak."

She Was Hygienic.

A woman who has a three-year-old daughter thought she would prevent the child from touching plants in new window boxes by telling her not to go near the plants, for there might be bugs in the earth that would bite. She left the child alone a short while and when she came back found the earth thrown right and left. And before she could call the child to task, the little one looked at her proudly and said, "I didn't get bitten, mother; I didn't put my hands in the dirt—I used a spoon."—Worcester Evening Post.

Lived Only One Life.

The noblest of great men who have expressed themselves through art, science and industry have lived but one life apiece. That one, though, was so exemplary that nothing needed to be hidden; else the veil drawn over their erroneous ways also would have blurred the vision of those very ideals they so clearly saw and expressed.

Justice Above All.

It is the law of heaven that you shall not be able to judge what is wise or easy, unless you are first resolved to judge what is just, and to do it.—Ruskin.

HEN your breakfast toast is just right—buttered piping hot; brown, crisp, delicious—you'll admit that it's a little bit of Heaven on a dark morning.

Keep this agreeable thought in mind as you read about the new Lucky Strike cigarette. Because it's "tied up" with this same good old kitchen stove idea. The tobacco—it's toasted: and what that toasting does to the delicious Burley flavor! My!

There's been a big demand for a cigarette ready-made from Burley tobacco. Last year you had to pour the Burley out of those green, red and blue tins—enough for 35 billion cigarettes.

But until we made this toasting discovery a ready-made Burley cigarette wasn't possible—we couldn't hold the flavor. But now! Well, just try it—Lucky Strike—the real Burley cigarette; the tobacco—it's toasted.

Home Cookery

Old Fashioned Pepper Pot.

Chop finely two each of green peppers, onions and beets. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, add the chopped vegetables and stir over a moderate fire until the butter is absorbed. Add a scant half pound of fresh tripe cut into small cubes and one-quarter of a cupful of blanched rice. Add two quarts of cold water and one pound and a half of veal knuckle. Season to taste with salt and celery salt, cover the kettle closely and simmer for two hours. Then add one cupful of canned tomato and let simmer for twenty minutes longer. Remove the veal bone, cool, skin and reheat before serving.

Marlboro Tart.

Line a large agateware pie plate with pastry. With a pastry jabber cut off long strips, a scant half inch in width, of pastry. Mix together two cupfuls of grated apple, the grated rind and juice of one lemon, one and a half cupfuls of sugar, two eggs lightly beaten, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, half a teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of thin cream. Turn this into the plate lined with pastry, wet the edges and set the strips of pastry over the top of the filling in two directions. Finish with a strip of paste on the edge. Let bake until firm in the center.

Rice Ice Cream.

Drop a cupful of well washed rice into a kettle of boiling water, boil for fifteen minutes, drain, drop into cold milk enough to cover about half an inch thick, place in double boiler, cook till soft, press through a sieve or ricer, return to fire, beat the yolks of three eggs with one cupful of sugar. Add to rice with a pinch of salt. Cook until thick. Cool, add two tablespoonfuls of vanilla or other flavoring, two tablespoonfuls of sherry and a pint of heavy cream, whipped. Place in freezer and freeze as usual.

Hoe Cake.

Three and a half cupfuls of cornmeal, two and a half cupfuls of white flour, three eggs, two cupfuls of butter-milk, butter size of an egg, one-half cupful of brown sugar, a tablespoonful of molasses, a teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of salt. Beat until light, bake in hot oven. Serve with bacon or with sweet new butter.

Potato and Ham.

Into a buttered baking dish put alternate layers of cold potatoes sliced thin, chopped ham and white sauce. Use plenty of sauce. Make sauce with a large tablespoonful of butter melted, a large tablespoonful of flour stirred smooth and one and one-half cupfuls of milk.

You Can Make Excellent Cake with Fewer Eggs

Just use an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way:

CREAM LAYER CAKE

Old Way

1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
3 eggs
1 cup shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla

New Way

1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
4 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1 egg
2 tablespoon shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla

Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake

DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then mix in the egg. Add the milk and the flour and Royal Baking Powder together two or three times, and add the vanilla. Gradually add the milk and beat with spoon until you have a smooth pour batter. Add the vanilla. Pour into greased layer cake tin and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes. This cake is best baked in two layers. Put together with cream filling and spread with white icing.

Prepare to Make a Back Yard Vegetable Garden

A comparison of the sum which must be paid this year for vegetables, with prices ruling a year ago, although 1916 was a year in which much complaint was heard of the high cost of living, is really startling.

The situation suggests that everybody who has a patch of ground in the back yard, even though it contain only a few dozen square feet, should utilize it in vegetable raising. Persons who have never "made garden" will be surprised at the results which can be obtained from a small piece of ground carefully cultivated, and they will be still more surprised at the difference it will make in their green grocery bills to be able to get lettuce, cabbages, tomatoes, peas, beans, spinach, onions and potatoes from their own garden.

More than that, the exercise of gardening is beneficial, and there will be an increase in health as the cost of living decreases. Let everybody "make garden" this spring who can possibly do so.

This Little Girl Had the Whooping Cough

There isn't any "cure" for this disease, but her mother wisely rubbed her with the "external" treatment—Vick's VapoRub salve, which loosens the phlegm, and eases the coughing paroxysm. Better than internal medicines for all forms of croup or cold troubles.

Mrs. Walter Bishop, 139 Wright St., Corry, Pa., keeps a "Bodyguard" on hand to protect the family from all forms of cold troubles. This Bodyguard is the Southern remedy, Vick's VapoRub Salve, and you just apply it externally—no harsh medicine to swallow. VapoRub is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness, and is also inhaled as a vapor. Mrs. Bishop used it on her little girl for whooping cough, and on her husband and herself for deep colds, and writes—

"We just apply it over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth, and put a little up the nose, and the next morning your head is clear. We try not to be without it in the house."

Remember that Vick's VapoRub can be used freely with perfect safety on the smallest child. 25c and up.

Doings of the Van Loons— No. Father isn't the only Hungry one.

How gay should a sport suit be?

YOUR safe test is "Gay and cheerful as you please—but not crude." It's a fact that people with taste are often offended these days with cheap, blattant things which should never be shown, much less worn.

But the true sport suit is such a joy that every really smart dresser is bound to be enthusiastic about it—it is so full of picturesque possibilities. The right ones usually show a broad collar, a wide cuff, and are made of wool velour, burel la cloth, or some other of those beautiful rough wool mixtures. There is no question what our trade wants.

The illustrations give you just a hint as to how fresh, spirited almost girlish, are the lines of these H. Black Company Wooltex creations. It's a surprise to many women to find how well these garments for young women look upon them—but it's no surprise to us—they are young women's suits for all women.

You, who believe it's a duty to look your best, will find these charming sport clothes ready waiting for you to see yourself in them in front of our mirrors. Come see them, whether you buy or not.
